THE CITY.

Notice to Subscribers.

The Express will be delivered hereafter, on the route between Fourth and Tenth streets, by Henry Hargrave, to whom payment should be made.

More Cars.

A large came across the river this morning from the Ohio Falls car factory, containing six new freight cars for the Nashville road.

Cheap Fruit.

It is reported that fruit is so abundant in Crawford county, Ind., that apples are not selling for more than ten cents per bushel, and peaches for twelve cents. Send it over this way.

Going to Shelby.

The contractors of the Shelby branch railroad have been all this week gathering up laborers. From fifty to one hundred men have left every day this week, and the work will be commenced at once.

Police Matters.

The Chief of Police reports two hundred and ninety-six arrests by the police during the month of September. One hundred and thirteen were for felonies and one hundred and eighty-three for misdemeanors.

On the Bridge.

A locomotive went out on the great bridge this morning as far as the track has been laid, and that was to the north end of the span over the Kentucky chute. No jar nor oscillation marked its passage, the bridge seeming as solid as the rocky bed of the river one hundred feet below.

Excitement.

A pistol-shot in a quiet neighborhood will be very apt to create considerable excitement, and so it did this morning at the corner of Washington and Preston streets, calling together a crowd of anxious people, but when it was found that the shot was accidental and no harm resulted, the crowd dispersed.

Redeemed at Last.

Charles Bell redeemed all his trunks yesterday evening, or rather a friend did for him, but not until after a considerable and costly. His total expenses, resulting from not paying Mrs. Shannon's bill, will be about fifty dollars. But he has gone on his way, glad to escape the lynx-eyed law-officers of this city.

More New Albany Mysteries.

New Albany got up a huge ghost story the other day, and now she has another mystery. At a very early hour Tuesday morning a carriage with all the curtains fastened down drove through upper Spring street at a furious rate. People living along the street say that they distinctly heard the shrieks of a woman in distress issuing from the carriage; but before any one could dress and pursue, the carriage turned into another street and was gone.

Tipped Over his Apple Cart.

And spilled all his peaches. That was literally true yesterday evening, no matter how impossible it may appear. A countryman having a wagon loaded with apples and peaches was rather slow in crossing the railroad track at the intersection of Jackson and Jefferson, and a train came along, car end foremost, caught his wagon at the rear end, and tipped it over into the street. Apples and peaches were abundant and very low just about then, and countless children availed themselves of that fall of fruit.

Louisville Opera House.

The Lottery of Life was presented last night for the third time to a large and greatly interested audience. As the members of the company become familiar with their parts, understand all the points and see all the peculiarities of character and situation, they are able to enter into the author's idea more thoroughly, and the consequence is that the play grows on the good-will of the public. But after tonight it will be withdrawn, so that all who have not seen it would do well to secure seats.

Church Music.

We are indebted to Prof. C. G. St. Clair, formerly organist at St. John's Church, Utica, N. Y., but now located in Kentucky, for some church music composed by him, and published in New York. We have his "Ave Maria," a soprano and tenor duet, an exquisite little morceau, which will no doubt become popular with choirs in the West; also St. Clair's Mass in G, with English and Latin words. The latter we have not had time to examine, but the opening quartet is very fine. There can be no doubt Prof. St. Clair is a musician and composer of very great attainments, and Louisville is fortunate in securing him as an addition to her already large list of talented ones.

Evening of Sacred Song.

It is very seldom our music-loving people have such an opportunity as will be offered to-night at Weisiger Hall. Mr. Philip Phillips, musician and composer, of New York, will give one of his new world-renowned evenings of sacred song. His "evenings" have given great delight to audiences of thousands in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other large cities in this country, and especially in London, Liverpool, Dublin and other large European cities. Just think of the audience that crowded Spurgeon's Tabernacle in London, with its seating capacity of seven thousand—all subdued to tears with one of Mr. Phillips' exquisitely pathetic songs, sung in his own inimitable style—or lifted off their feet by his electric rendering of the "Rescue," a song descriptive of storm, shipwreck and the lifeboat. The great beauty of his music in its high, pure, sacred character. Mr. Phillips is a devoted Christian, who, knowing that he has received from the Master a talent of inestimable value—has devoted that talent and all the energies of an earnest manhood to the service of that Master, and makes it his daily meat and drink—his joy—his greatest happiness to persuade, by precept and example, all other human beings to use their talents to the best of their ability in the same service.

Mr. Phillips has a voice of great excellence. His utterance is clear and distinct. Every note and syllable can be heard in the remotest corner of the hall. He suits his music to his words, and then renders both to the ear as to move the hearts of his audience as only a master can. We advise all who take delight in sacred music, both old and young, parents and children, to attend at Weisiger Hall to-night, and go early.

The Commercial Convention.

The following Southern railroads have already announced their intention of passing free, both ways, members of the 12th of October Commercial Convention, to-wit: Louisville and Nashville; Louisville and Memphis; Nashville and Chattanooga; Vicksburg and Meridian; East Tennessee and Georgia; East Tennessee and Virginia; Chesapeake and Ohio; Norfolk, Lynchburg and Bristol; Edgefield and Kentucky; Evansville, Henderson and Nashville. The following Northern roads return free, on certificate of convention's president, the members who come over their lines: Cincinnati and Zanesville; Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw; Philadelphia and Reading; Baltimore and Ohio; Central Ohio; Louisville, New Albany and Chicago; Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton; Milwaukee and St. Paul; Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington; Cleveland and Columbus. The Memphis and Charleston will take on the same terms. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific will return them on one-fifth fare.

Many persons are inquiring to whom they shall hand in subscriptions for the expenses of the Commercial Convention. Charles Tilden, Esq., president of the Bank of Louisville, is the treasurer and will receive them. We understand that the list of subscribers will not be published before the 11th of October, so as to give full time to everybody to hand in their donations.

Horse Thief Arrested.

Two or three weeks ago it was stated in these columns that someone had stolen a much-prized horse from the stable of Mr. McCullum, on Breckinridge and Hancock streets. The exact description having been given to the police, Officer Treassey found the animal this morning hitched to a farmer's wagon, and at once took possession. The farmer's story is that he traded another horse and ten dollars in cash for the animal some three weeks ago. From the description he gave of the trade, Treassey proceeded at once to ferret out the thief, and arrested Hugh McCord on the charges, lodging him in jail. The farmer lived about five miles below West Point, and will go home one horse less than when he came to town.

General Council.

The General Council will meet again to-night, and there are several matters of importance which ought to be taken up and disposed of. The subscription to the Kentucky river improvement still hangs in the upper board, while the lower board will spend most of the evening over that connection question. It will come up as a special order, and it is to be hoped that members will not waste any more time in frivolous points of order, and futile efforts to defeat or defer action. Let the question be settled to-night, and settled definitely. The best interests of the city demand an immediate grant of the right of way, and the members of the Council can very easily, in the light of that monster petition, decide on the route that will be of most benefit to the trade of the city.

Painful News.

We are pained to hear of the death, at Fort Wayne, Ind., on the 24th inst., of a lady formerly of this city, Mrs. Large, wife of Rev. Joseph Large, former rector of St. John's Episcopal Church. During her residence among the people of St. John's, she endeared herself inexpressibly to all hearts, and the members of that congregation will mourn her demise with a sorrow unaffected and all-pervading.

U. S. M. Hospital.

This institution will open to-morrow week, October 8th, under the auspices of the Sisters of Mercy, with Dr. D. J. Griffiths as physician resident. Another hospital is absolutely demanded, as the City Hospital has not sufficient accommodations.

THE TURF.

Woodlawn Course—Fine Sport Promised.

The races over Woodlawn Course commenced on Monday next with the Galt House stake for 3 year-olds, two mile heats. The famous Versailles, Exchange, Pompey Payne, and other noted racers are entered, and with a good track fast time and a splendid race may be anticipated. These races will revive this grand sport in this section, where it never ought to have languished for a moment. In this connection we must also state that the generous spirit evinced by Mr. Joshua B. Parks, in guaranteeing the purses deserves high praise. He certainly gains nothing, for he is not interested in the profits that may accrue, but is certain to lose if the meeting is not a paying one. So, ladies and gentlemen, prepare for Monday and the days thereafter. With good weather, we predict the most brilliant assemblage that has appeared on a race-course since the days of Wagoner and Gray Eagle.

Mrs. Oates' Burlesque Company.

This talented little lady and her troupe appear at the Opera House on Monday evening next, October 4th. The Cincinnati Times speaks of Mrs. Oates and her company in the following manner:

Mrs. Oates' Burlesque and Dramatic Troupe, with their "Field of the Cloth of Gold," excited the greatest pleasure and enthusiasm on the part of the audience. Mrs. Oates is a favorite as the "girl of the period," with looped-up dress and "Grecian Bend," with song, was much applauded. The visit is celebrated by tournaments and holiday exhibitions, which afford opportunity for introducing the usual accessories of such plays—singing, dancing, musical and other performances, &c., &c.

Chatterton, who performed Francis I. is a very good singer and actor. The life and soul of the company, however, is Mrs. Oates, who took the part of Earl Darnley. Handsome, vivacious, sparkling, graceful, bewitching, with a ringing laugh and a clear musical voice, who can sing the heart out of ye and dance to perfection, full of nervous life and action—a perfect little locomotive in tightness—she ran quite away with the audience and created the wildest enthusiasm. All her songs were encored, and she fully established herself as a popular favorite.

The guitar performance of Hernandez, the wonderful musical feat of Professor O'Reardon on the tumbler, the comic Japanese troupe, &c., were highly relished by the audience. The play is a great success.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

HON. E. S. CRAIG, JUDGE.

THURSDAY MORNING, September 30. Court opened with a slim docket this morning. The law-breakers in this community are evidently held in restraint by the wholesome correction that Judge Craig administers to all such. The following cases were heard, and their just dues awarded them:

Jno. Flack, drunk and disorderly conduct; fined $3.
Chris. Krug, drunk and disorderly conduct; fined $3.
Michael Finley, drunk and disorderly conduct and abuse of family; fined $3, and bond in $300 for six months.
Kate Murphy, stealing coat worth $25 from Mandeville; discharged.
James McFarlan, stealing bed-ticking worth more than $1 from David Clark; held in $200 to answer.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

What It Costs to Trifle with a Lady's Affections in Canada.

Canadian juries are by no means as sympathetic as those of Illinois. The colder climate of Montreal must make men stony-hearted. A story of trifling with woman's affections, breaking a solemn promise of marriage, and an appeal to a jury of her countrymen for $40,000 damages, could hardly be expected to hearten a jury of this city. The case was quite clear; the defendant did not deny the promise; the plaintiff did not deny that she had loved the defendant of 47 for himself, and not because he was a rich auctioneer and promoter of a clear musical voice, and the honeymoon. The business-like love-letters of the defendant, "poetical" James Benning, were read in court, but were dreadfully dull; there was very little fun in the case; the speeches of counsel were most interesting, but they were too Pickwickian; and in the evidence only a few bursts of laughter disturbed the solemn dignity of the court room. Miss Grange, the plaintiff, living at Coteau Landing, a village on the Grand Trunk, a few miles west of Montreal, visiting among the first families of the city, is introduced to James Benning, who immediately falls in love and proposes marriage, offering to take his bride to Europe. Miss G. consents, and makes preparations for the auspicious event. But in the meantime Mr. Benning hears that the lovely Sophia Mary has actually walked from the Ottawa hotel to the house of a friend, a few blocks distant, in company with a Capt. Beckus. The captain is further said to be a lover, who wooed the fair one when sailing up and down the St. Lawrence; and further, awful to relate, that Sophia had said if the captain offered himself to her five minutes before she was to step up to the altar with old Benning, she would take him. What a cruel blow this must have been to the old man's heart. No wonder that he refused to carry out his engagement and take his courtship to court. He is even determined to take the fair Sophia to England, for he has appealed to have the verdict of the jury set aside, although the damages awarded are to him but a trifle. He thinks the English judges are even colder than Canadian juries, and perhaps they will lessen the damages.

Exciting Scenes.

A PANIC IN STOCKS.

Everything at Loose Ends in "the Streets."

GLOOMY PROSPECTS ALL AROUND

The Gold Exchange Bank.

From the New York World, 28th.

Wall street is yet in a muddle. It was yesterday one scene of excitement, turmoil, boil and bubble, bubble and boil, full of rumors, doubts and uncertainty. Money was tight. No person knew whom to trust, or who was going to fail. The stock market was feverish and panicky. Values changed upon every whisper, and everything appeared to be in a condition ready for another grand tumble. The leading firms in the late gold clique were compelled to keep guards around their establishments, fearing an attack of the exasperated bears. Nothing was done in gold, and there were no quotations except in the purchase of small lots over the counters of houses which deal in that manner in the precious metals.

It is very apparent that both bulls and bears have suffered by the great battle, but the question is, which has suffered the most. A habitue of the street remarked: "Everybody that I meet has made it all." It is this feature of the affair which makes Wall street so much perplexed. This has been one of the worst panics ever known, gotten up by artificial means, without any natural cause, all by a few men scheming, blustering and frightening others.

THE LOSSES.

which have followed it are widespread, and embrace more men than usually follow panics from natural causes. It is this being able to carry out their contracts so bitter in their curses against all of those who were connected with this bull clique in gold. To all appearances the parties who engineered and were engaged in the gold bubble are the worst hurt. They were the first to take to their heels, exhibit the white flag, and lead off in the stampede. The attack of the bears, with the government at their back, was more than the bulls could stand. As a matter of course, the bears all had dealings with the gold clique, and the suspension of the latter, and the doubt which remains in regard to the bulls being able to carry out their contracts to take the gold sold them, at a high figure, make everything uncertain. If the leading firms which did business for the bulls come out all right and fulfill their contracts, then the bear houses will be little affected, and matters will soon start off being able to carry out their contracts. It is this doubt that keeps everything in an unsettled condition. This will not be entirely removed for several days yet; until it is, stocks will remain in a feverish condition.

FISK AND BELDEN.

Several of the bull firms are unquestionably badly smashed and their accounts thrown out by the Gold Exchange Bank. The current rumor on the street was that the leaders in the clique were throwing all the gold they could get into the hands of Fisk and Belden, and thus saving some of the other firms engaged in the bull operations at the expense of those gentlemen. Nobody in Wall street believes that the clique have made any money, or, in other words, that if all the contracts are lived up to, they will be able to meet their obligations; but by throwing the greater portion on two or three houses, the other leading firms may be able to save themselves from ruin.

WIDE-SPREAD UNKINNESS.

While there was less excitement on the street than during the panic, yet there was a sense of uneasiness which made the whole affair extremely uncertain whether the market was on the eve of a still further break or an upward turn.

IS THE STORM OVER?

On every side the question would be asked: Has the worst come yet, or are we to have another panic? If it is the bottom? These and hundreds of other questions were in everybody's mouth. They were asked by both bulls and bears, outsiders and old habits of the street. Each was trying to obtain comfort from the others, and receive information that would give them new courage, for the clique were able to answer even to their own satisfaction much less for that of others. It was a day fully as trying as that of the Friday when the decisive battle was being fought. Both bears and bulls were afraid to move, fearing that a fresh attack would be made by the other side. And neither side was ready for a struggle, but ready to run at the first symptoms of fight. The bulls shunned the bears, they could not stand a sight of them, much less a growl or a snarl from the "ursus" of Wall street. Nor could the bears face the bulls, for they knew that the bears feared treachery and kept as far from each other as possible.

WANT OF CONFIDENCE.

What is wanted now is confidence to settle matters. The struggle of last week has destroyed both that of the street and the public generally. From the N. Y. Times, Tuesday.

We very much regret to report that affairs in Wall street are much worse than on Friday and Saturday last. The mischief of the gold ring explosion developed themselves more signally through the Gold Exchange Bank than at the close of last week. The gold room continued their adjournment over to Tuesday.

THE GOLD BANK.

Brokers in swarms invaded the precincts of the bank yesterday morning, and gave the officers of the institution a heavy time. As a dun of untiring zeal, a dis-pointed broker stands in the front rank. Those gentlemen of the bank who were hitherto certainly preserved a remarkable degree of equanimity during their trying ordeal.

HOW THE BROKERS FEEL.

Those of the brokers who have balances in their favor in the bank, and are unable to reach them, swear loudly and without concealment or reserve. Mr. Benedict, the younger, was actually besieged yesterday; every step he took was followed and watched with Fouche-like inquisitiveness; and at last, when he could no longer endure his tormentors any longer, he turned sharp around and said: "Gentlemen, I am too tired to hold a levee; the bank is doing everything in its power for you, and you must wait the turn of the tide."

"That be blowed," said a spruce looking broker; "I am to get $147,000 currency, and here I am flinging out my bills on the market and turning stock at a disadvantage to relieve myself. If I could get my money from you, I would give five per cent. discount."

The same remarks were made by others.

THE BROKEN BROKERS.

The brokers who have been smashed in the fray are frantic with excitement. The larger firms are creeping up the ladder again, but the majority of the unfortunate street speculators are ruined for life. The greater part of them put every cent into this second South Sea bubble, and are swept away in the general wreck. They meet each other by instinct and shake hands consolingly, but that is all. There are no invitations to taste a bottle of Veuve Cluquet now; oh, dear, no, they have lost all the gaiety of bon vivants. Their principal way of whiling the hours away is in trying to ascertain how much so and so has lost, and how much so and so has gained. It is a luck dog, they meet him with a cynical smile; envying him his good fortune. Some, however, with Beranger's "Little Brown Man," think their plan is to laugh at all that, and are happy and jolly looking. But the majority are differently disposed, and look not the same. It is the way of the world, the rich are always envied.

CONDITION OF THE NATIONAL BANKS.

Charles Callender, the National Bank Examiner, states freely that every national bank in this city is in sound condition and conservatively managed. Also that the Tenth National Bank is to-day creditor at the Clearing House for over half a million of dollars.

The trouble in the gold clearings were not the only drag upon business to-day. The rascally conduct of the gold ring in buying gold at 155a160, and selling through different brokers at 145a150 per cent. on Friday, has greatly complicated the settlements of that day, and it is sensibly felt that until these settlements are made, and the extent of the frauds upon the brokers in the shape of orders to buy or sell gold, which were designed to be recognized only as they might result in profit or loss, there can be no restoration of confidence or steadiness to business.

The Gold Exchange Bank is especially blamed for its unscrupulous conduct in the question, and for publishing or authorizing to be published, the names of firms of the highest respectability as defaulting in their clearings, in other words, for refusing to be swindled where they had bought or sold, or borrowed, or returned gold to the bank, or engaged the bank to take or hold last week, and, on failure of the attempt, left their own brokers in the lurch.

In reference to this matter, we are advised by the wealthy and eminently upright house of Messrs. Drexel, Winthrop & Co., that they served an injunction upon the Bank against clearing the $100,000 in gold which they borrowed on Friday of one of the brokers of Fisk, Jr., with the express understanding that a mutual deposit of security was to be made in one of the trust companies, which was not made in his part before he had left the street. In the case of Messrs. Drexel, Winthrop & Co., another respectable firm, an attempt was made through the Clearing Bank (Gold Exchange Bank) to compel them to take a very large sum of gold at 150 per cent., which they had previously sold to the broker of the same party at 160 per cent., and because they refused to be this official notice from the bank this morning, that they had failed to make their clearances.

There was no resumption of payments in full by any of the firms connected with the gold ring to-day, as promised on Saturday, and it is extremely doubtful whether they will be able to do so. The payment of the gold ring to-day, in at least two instances, would amply justify such a proceeding.

From the New York Tribune, Tuesday.

During the day our reporter called upon one of the most reliable members of the Gold Board in his office, where were a number of prominent gentlemen, and the following conversation took place:

Reporter—What do you think caused this financial panic?
Answer—It was the result of a conspiracy to pull the price of gold to an unnatural price, and get people to margin up their gold to the market price every night to the brokers acting for the clique, and then finally sending irresponsible parties to bid the market up to 60 and above, while other brokers were saddling the market with their clique gold, and also forcing as many to settle privately with them at 50 and 55, as they could.

Reporter—Who compose the "clique"?
Answer—It would not do for me to answer. A gentleman standing near said: "I am not afraid to answer. The clique is said to be composed of James Fisk, Jr., Jay Gould, the Erie gang and the Tammany officials."

Reporter—What do you think made or lost in the transaction?
Answer—I think they made enormous sums of money by pocketing the margins of people who were borrowing gold from them, and were sure to go.

A gentleman standing near said: "Add please to your report that this is one of the most infamous transactions on record. I am not afraid to say that I cannot conceive of a sane man going into an operation of this character and magnitude without having first the assurance of the powers that be. If you want the whole thought, I believe that some understanding must have been had with the Treasury to keep hands off. The sudden change of programme evinced in the rapid advance of price early Friday morning may not have been the result of private information from the Treasury Department to the effect that the government would come to the rescue of the people, and yet (significantly) it may have been.

Reporter—What you think of the transaction of the Gold Exchange Bank during this crisis?
Answer—Nothing more than that the vast amount of business of the bank utterly demoralized its leading officers—$500,000,000 of gold to be cleared, and it paralyzed them. The pressure was gigantic.

Reporter—When and how do you think this confusion will be over?

Answer—As far as the gold exchange bank is concerned, I think that to-morrow will find the street down from its feverish gallop to its legitimate trot, for I think the bank will pay. It is said that three-quarters of the clearances had been made, and probably the remaining one-quarter will be paid to-morrow. I mean Thursday's clearances.

At nightfall matters looked gloomy. To-morrow was looked for despondingly. It was rumored that the great run made yesterday upon a certain house would imperil certain stocks in which they were largely interested, and it was feared that one collapsed bubble would follow another. In the minds of all there seems to be a restless, tired, vague, unsatisfactory feeling.

ENOCH ARDEN OUTDOSE.

The Trouble of Having Two Husbands.

From the St. Louis Republican.

Bridget Kelley resides in a tenement, in rear of No. 1,010, North Sixth street. Nine years ago she was married to James Kelley, who, after having lived with her two years, went to California, leaving Bridget in St. Louis. Living alone for some time, and not hearing from Kelley, she struck up an acquaintance with Edward Gallagher. They lived together for years, had a son, who grew to their charge, and the first husband made his appearance in St. Louis. The parties met and talked the matter over. The woman was in a quandary. She did not know what to do. The men stripped for a fight, but she interfered and separated the combatants. Gallagher surrounded his claim, and Kelley left him, and went over to Illinois to live with Kelley, her first husband.

Matters got along smoothly for one year, when Kelley, getting tired of her, leaves her again. She returned to St. Louis; finds Gallagher just returned from New Orleans, where he had been engaged in the mining business, and she resolved to live together in a tenement, and Gallagher went to work on the levee. Saturday their felicity was disturbed by the reappearance of Kelley. At first sight Bridget thought it was Kelley's ghost, and could hardly believe her eyes. But she was soon convinced to the contrary, as she alleged by Kelley hitting her with his fist on the head and knocking her down. He then drew a large jack-knife and opened it. She feared that he was going to cut her to pieces. She ran with all her might out on the street, and screamed murder at the top of her voice. The police, who were on duty, rushed to her aid, and she proceeded at once to ascertain what was the matter.

The woman kept on screaming until she gathered about five hundred people around the house. When the officer got to the house, Kelley was inside with the doctor, as she alleged by Kelley hitting her with his fist on the head and knocking her down. He then drew a large jack-knife and opened it. She feared that he was going to cut her to pieces. She ran with all her might out on the street, and screamed murder at the top of her voice. The police, who were on duty, rushed to her aid, and she proceeded at once to ascertain what was the matter.

Secretary Boutwell and the Gold Ring.

From the New York Herald.

In the smoke and fury relative to the gold gambling operations in Wall street and about the conduct of the Secretary of the Treasury the people are likely to be become bewildered. In fact, the subject is a considerable mystery. Mr. Boutwell himself has no clear ideas of the situation or of his duty. He has one theory to-day and another to-morrow. At one time he engaged to sell gold regularly at certain periods, then he changed and sold at irregular times and in uncertain quantities, so that the business suffered more and more. The Wall-street gold gambling ring was contrary to his own views and wish. The Washington dispatch published yesterday shows this, and a dispatch published previously shows that the President gave the order to sell gold and give relief to the business community. Mr. Boutwell in the Treasury Department is out of his element and has no chart of financial principles to guide him. He is in a measure responsible for the mischief caused by the extraordinary rise of gold last Friday, and was unwilling to apply the remedy that could be found at the time. We are not disposed to give a credit to rumors about that there was a design in bringing the gold market to such a condition, but rather attribute the errors of the Secretary to want of ability.

The Freedmen's Bureau in Virginia.

Washington Correspondence N. Y. Herald.

I am authorized to say that there is no truth in the report made by the associated press agent to the effect that General Canby recommends the re-establishment of the freedmen's bureau in Virginia. It was given as a reason in the press dispatch referred to that the great drought would cause so much suffering among the negroes this winter, and hence the General's action. The suffering will be as great and general among the poorer whites as among the negroes, and if the national aid was extended to one race it would be unjust to withhold it from the other.

It took from Prince Charles, of Prussia, fifty thousand dollars to hush up the disgraceful affair in which he was recently involved. He had seduced the wife of one of his valets-de-chambre, who threatened to kill him, and actually fired a pistol shot at him.

Massachusetts has 40,000 more women than men, and wants to know what she shall do with them.

The Virginia Legislature to Elect Senators.

Assassination of Rebel Generals in Cuba Denied.

The Iron Interest Want a Higher Tariff.

Senator Wilson Proposes to War on the Gold Gamblers.

THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—There seems to be no doubt that the Virginia Legislature will at its next meeting, next week, elect U. S. Senators. The Attorney General, it is believed, has decided that the legislature can make such an election after ratifying the fifteenth amendment, on the ground that it will not be in the nature of legislation. The Lieutenant Governor of Virginia had an interview with President Taft, and the latter informed him that Gen. Sherman had written a letter to Gen. Canby, stating that there would be no objections here to the election of Senators, and that the President acquiesced. Senator Wilson, who was consulted, said he should welcome the restoration of Virginia in any way consistent with the reconstruction acts. An election will therefore probably take place.

THE CUBAN REPUBLIC.

The legation of the Cuban republic here state that they have information showing that the recent reports of the assassination of two Cuban generals, and the placing of General Jordan in command of the revolutionists, are untrue. The legation, however, felt that the administration has decided to take no steps in Cuban affairs, especially none in the way of recognition.

THE IRON INTEREST.

A delegation representing the iron interests in Pittsburgh, Newark and New York, arrived here to-day, and had an interview with Secretary Boutwell, and also the President. They came to ask the Secretary, in connection with a coming annual report, recommend that the tariff on a certain class of imported steel be increased. The Secretary listened to their views and took a copy of their address. They say that under a construction of the present tariff one class of steel is admitted at a lower rate than Congress intended, and that it came in lively competition with the home manufacture.

SALES OF GOLD IN BALTIMORE.

The Secretary of the Treasury yesterday authorized the Collector of the port of Baltimore to sell $50,000 in gold per week to relieve the necessities of the business men of that city. The price is limited to one per cent, above that quoted in New York.

THE GOLD GAMBLERS.

Senator Wilson says that he proposes at the next session of Congress to introduce a bill providing that any persons who shall engage in buying or selling gold, and shall fail to deliver the actual coin, shall be punished with a heavy fine and imprisonment. He thinks this would go far to break up the system of gold gambling which prevails in Wall street, and prevent the repetition of such scenes as were witnessed there last week.

THE HATTEN GUNBOAT.

Should the gunboat recently sold to the Haytian authorities by this government not more satisfactory to them after the trial of her qualities, the Navy Department will authorize the purchase money to be refunded and the vessel returned to service.

PERSONAL.

There was quite a large crowd of visitors at the Executive Mansion this morning, nearly all of whom were admitted to see the President. Gen. Farnsworth, of Illinois, and Gen. Tallaferra, of Virginia, had interviews.

NASHVILLE.

Emerson Etheridge is serenaded and makes a speech—Brownlow Sinking Feet—Affray with a Franklyn—Negro Shot at Fountain Head.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 20.—Hon. Emerson Etheridge was serenaded at the City Hotel to-night and made a brief speech in response. He congratulated the people on the overthrow of Radicalism in Tennessee, but earnestly begged moderation in the celebration of fraternal feelings all around. He was outspoken in his advocacy of broad liberal principles, discarding dead issues and advising all to keep abreast of the progressive spirit of the age. He favored the immediate calling of a convention by the Legislature and the immediate enfranchisement of all who were now disfranchised. He was loudly applauded.

He did not refer to the United States Senate, but privately he expresses the opinion that his chances are number one.

Advices from Knoxville say that Senator Brownlow is confined to his bed by sickness, and few are expected to see him. He will not be able to take his seat in the Senate at the opening of Congress.

During a circus performance at Franklin, Ky., yesterday afternoon, the ex-guerrilla Harper and some of his friends got into a fight with a number of other men, during which one of the latter was shot dead. One of Harper's men was badly wounded. Harper immediately fled to Sumner county, in this State, pursued by ten mounted men.

Two negroes got into a fight at Fountain Head, Ky., yesterday, when one shot the other dead.

CUBA.

Suppressing the Rebellion—Las Tunas a Rebel Victory—Execution of Spaniards—Important News Expected.

HAVANA, Sept. 20.—General de La Torre arrived to-night. He gives a flattering account of the progress of the Spanish in suppressing the rebellion in the eastern district. The Havana journals, in discussing the recent note of Gen. Riel Siles, express the wish that he might occupy some of his time in a manner better adapted to his abilities.

An attempt was lately made to raise the insurgent standard in the Vuelta Abajo region, but it proved a failure. Several Cubans in connection are being held by themselves to the Spanish authorities for pardon.

Kent West, Sept. 20.—Advices from Nassau, N. P., have been received. Five Cubans arrived there on the 22nd from the United States. Gen. Quesada sent by them $20,000 to be expended for arms for the Cuban army.

A check on Las Tunas was a victory for the Cuban army. The Spanish forces in the stronghold were taken prisoners.

Fifteen Spanish officers were taken prisoners and shot. Thousands of Cubans were around Puerto Principe.

The patriots were in good arms. Important dispatches have been received here for the Cuban Junta in New York.

MISSISSIPPI RADICAL CONVENTION.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 20.—The Republican State Convention met to-day with a large attendance. All but two counties represented. J. L. Morris, from Warren, was made permanent president. Gen. Adams was nominated for Governor by acclamation. R. C. Powers, for Lieutenant Governor; Jas. Lynch, colored, for Secretary of State. Further nominations will be made to-morrow.

A grand general election of to-morrow. Preparations for several thousand persons are being made.

OUTH AMERICA.

DEFEAT OF THE PARAGUAYANS.

LISBON, Sept. 20.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived with advices from Paraguay to the 20th of August. On the 20th the allied army attacked the forces of Lopez, which were entrenched at Curuguaty. The Paraguayans were entirely defeated, losing 1,000 killed and 200 prisoners. Twelve cannon were captured. Lopez, with the remainder of his army, fled to Ignacio, a short distance away. On the 21st he was again attacked by the allies and again defeated, losing 25 cannon. Gen. Drey, the General commanding the allies, at last advices was closely pursuing the fugitives. Owing to these victories the Paraguayans were compelled to abandon all their steamers, which fell into the hands of the allies.

BRITISH SUBJECTS LIBERATED.

Forty-four of the British subjects, who had lately been held as prisoners by Lopez, were liberated.

LOPEZ AN OUTLAW.

The Provisional Government of Asuncion had declared Lopez an outlaw.

THE FLIGHT OF LOPEZ.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The news from Rio Janeiro is to the 7th, and fully confirms the flight of Lopez.

FRANCE.

HEAVY LOSS OF PETROLEUM.

BORDEAUX, September 20.—A fire broke out here last evening in the shipping and before it could be subdued thirty vessels laden with petroleum were consumed. Loss heavy.

THE TRAPPAN FAMILY MURDER.

PARIS, September 20.—Two accomplices in the recent murder of the Trappan family have been arrested.

PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES.

PARIS, September 20.—Prince and Princess of Wales arrived to-day and were received by the Emperor.

SPAIN.

SICKLES WITHDRAWS HIS NOTE.

MADRID, Sept. 20.—It is reported in official circles that the recent note of Sickles has been withdrawn.

THE THIRONE.

At the Council of Ministers held here to-day, Marshall Serrano presiding, it was agreed to propose to the Cortes the election of the Duke of Genoa as King of Spain. The press, without exception, has received with great enthusiasm the letter of the King of Portugal declining to be a candidate for the Spanish throne.

REPUBLICANS CONCENTRATING.

It is reported that a formidable band of Republicans are concentrating in Catalonia. The Government have dispatched troops there.

ENGLAND.

SPAIN AND THE CUBANS.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Times' Paris correspondent asserts that there is but little hope of a compromise between Spain and the Cubans. The sentiments of both parties are heard here. The Spanish Government says in so many words: "Lay down your arms and send your prisoners to Cuba, and you will be free. We are willing, if you desire independence, we don't say no. The matter may be arranged, but Cuba must disarm. Spain's motto is peace and union."

NEWCASTLE RACES.

The triennial produce stakes were won by Martingale, St. Leger stakes by Midsummer, and Granby stakes by Young Melbourne.

TURKEY.

SATI-PRACTICE MEDIATION.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—The mediation of the great powers of Europe in the matters at issue between Turkey and Egypt has been satisfactory. None of the points presented save one offered any difficulty.

SYRACUSE.

Meeting of the Republican Convention—The Platform Adopted—The Nominations.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 20.—The Convention met to-day at 10 o'clock, with Dr. C. Littlejohn as temporary President. Various committees were appointed. The Convention then took a recess till 3 P. M.

At the evening session Hon. John A. Griswold was made permanent President. Judge Pierpont, from the Committee on Resolutions, presented the platform of the Convention for adoption.

The public debt, principal and interest, shall be paid in coin.

That taxation of native shall have an equal right to suffrage without regard to race, color or religion.

That the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States ought to be adopted.

That we deeply sympathize with all down-trodden and oppressed people everywhere.

That whenever this facts in possession of our Government will justify the recognition of Cuban belligerency, we shall heartily support any action on the part of the Government tending to the final annexation of Cuba whenever she shall have achieved her independence and her people desire such action.

Other resolutions indorse the administration of State—Gen. Wm. Curtis, Secretary of State—Thos. Hillhouse, State Engineer—Gen. John C. Robinson, State Prison Inspector—Daniel D. Conover, Judge Circuit Appellate—Present members, Woodruff and Wilson.

It appears Gen. Sigel declined to accept any nomination, on the ground of ill health. A State ticket was then selected, and the convention adjourned.

VIRGINIA.

Hoar's Opinion on the Senatorial Question.

RICHMOND, Sept. 20.—The opinion of Attorney General Hoar on the Senatorial question is published. It bears date of the 25th, and says: "After careful consideration, I am of the opinion that the election of Senators, like the voting on the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States, is a part of the action contemplated by Congress as preliminary to a restoration of a State to its full relations to the Government of the United States as one of the States of the Union."

"The Senators thus elected would have no power or authority until the Senate of the United States had been reconstituted, the result of which will be the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment by the State Legislature at its next meeting. Already some of the most prominent men of the pending parties have held consultation, with a view to secure the State to a firm position in the Union."

Lydia Thompson gave $100 to the Avondale sufferers.

All Diseases Arising from an Impure State of the Blood.

SUCH AS

Serofula or King's Pimples on the Face, Eruptions, Erysipelas, Rheumatic Dis. Sore Eyes, Scald-head, Syphilis, Tetter Affections, Mercurial Dis. General Debility, Cases, Low Spirits, Dyspepsia, Female Complaints, Costiveness, Liver Complaint, Loss of Appetite, &c., &c.

This preparation is a concentrated Fluid Extract of Honduras Sarsaparilla and Queen's Root or Stillingia, containing in solution a neutral salt of Iodine, with aromatics and sugar sufficient to render palatable. The well-known alternative properties of these articles is secured by carefully selecting the crude drugs, for in the case of Sarsaparilla, it is a well-known fact that at least nine-tenths of the root on the market is entirely inert from bad handling or age. Fortunately it is easily known. By chewing a little of the root, if good, a prickly sensation is produced in the throat which remains for hours. If not so, the medicine is worthless. In use none that has not been carefully tested. Good Stillingia is more easily gotten, but, like Sarsaparilla, may lose its efficacy by improper treatment in the efforts to extract its active principle. The process must be carefully performed by a competent person fully informed as to the conditions required to secure a perfect result.

What I Claim as Meritorious in This Compound

Is, that it contains the medicinal principles of good Sarsaparilla and Stillingia, carefully extracted by the most approved and scientific process, and is made the vehicle to contain the Iodine salt in a condition not liable to be attacked by time or decomposed by the chemical action of any of the articles with which it is associated; but, on the contrary, they become valuable adjuncts to its alternative action.

Practitioners are Fully Aware of the Value of Such a Combination as This.

And also of the difficulty of getting it prepared so as to retain all the virtues of the crude fresh drug. This I have secured, and, therefore, offer it with confidence to the profession.

NOT AS A SECRET NOSTRUM.

But setting forth all its component parts, the proportions sufficiently indicated by the directions.

In the use of alternative medicines, no decided effect must be looked for in a short time. They act slowly, and require persistent and regular use. However,

The Use of a Single Bottle of This Preparation Will Indicate its Curative Virtues.

Sufficiently to encourage the patient to continue taking until entirely relieved. The class of diseases in which they are used do not admit of heroic treatment.

This preparation is not intended for a beverage, as some Sarsaparilla are taken.

BUT IS A POWERFUL MEDICINE!

Containing in one bottle, though not as large as others on the market, more of the extract of Sarsaparilla than there is in a dozen of the worthless compounds of flavored molasses and spirits which generally are offered to the public as Sarsaparilla and Blood Purifiers.

STATE & COUNTY RIGHTS FOR SALE AT LOW PRICES.

Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Oregon, and Kansas have been won. Any of the remaining territory of the United States will be sold by the Government.

This patent was granted January 26th, 1899, and has nearly seventeen years to run. The profits resulting from the monopoly of the manufacture of this article, in most any territory in the United States, will maintain a family in good style. Prices for counties vary from $25 to $500.

The invention is worthy of the attention of farmers, mechanics and capitalists in all parts of the country, to whom it is most earnestly recommended as a remunerative investment.

The article can be seen at the upholstery establishment of Henry Weinhold Esq., No. 6 West Main street, Louisville, Ky., where orders for them may be left and will receive prompt attention.

Partners are wanted immediately to start manufacturing in New York City, Chicago, St. Louis, Mo., and several other large commercial centers.

Propositions from responsible parties to manufacture the Elastic Spring Bed Bottom are invited. The Royalty plan will give ample prompt attention.
